

EXTENSION HYDRO TO MACLEOD, URGED BY MAYOR McDONALD

The annual meeting of the Macleod and district Board of Trade was held Monday evening. Preceding the business meeting a banquet was held at which over 30 professional and business men and farmers were present. Dr. Fanset, president of the Board of Trade, presided in his usual happy manner.

The president opened the business by giving a short address on the work accomplished by the Board of Trade during the past year. He referred to a number of items that had been dealt with, seemingly small in themselves but of vast importance to the district. Among others he spoke of the troubles in the town with the Blue and Red trails, which had prevented the travelling of portions of these trails as planned and promised by the late minister of public works.

He spoke also of the part taken by the Board of Trade in the colonization advertising scheme for southern Alberta, the booklet covering the territory from the mountains to Taber. The extension of rural telephones in the Macleod constituency had also been dealt with.

The question of the Indians being allowed to take wherever they pleased had been taken up with the officials of the Indian department, and settled to the satisfaction of all concerned. They had also been successful in getting the town council to put up a number of large signs on the outskirts of the town for the direction of tourists. Road improvements were taken up with the municipalities and the government, and the suggestions were in most cases carried out. The president finished by saying that some people expect more from a Board of Trade, but the little things often count for a great deal.

Financial Statement

The financial statement showed a balance of $25.30 on the right side. The election of officers for 1927, on the recommendation of the nominating committee was as follows: Hon. presidents, Mayor J. W. McDonald, K.C., and W. H. Shield, M.L.A., president, H. C. Winter, for improvement, C. A. Mercer, treasurer, O. J. Wood, secretary, R. J. E. Gardiner; executive, Dr. O. F. Fanset, D. J. Grier, E. Greenwood, H. Mackintosh, J. W. Morehead, Geo. Pearson, Geo. Parker, Jas. Young and Frank Walsh.

The president-elect was called on for a speech, and in a few words asked for the support of all the members for their co-operation and assistance in making 1927 a successful year for the Board of Trade.

Member Speaks

W. H. Shield, M.L.A., then addressed the meeting, opening his remarks by stating the amount of assistance he had received from the Board of Trade in his efforts for improvements in the district. He said that co-operation in the community is the only thing for success, speaking of the great success of Sir Henry Thornton in the C.N.R. who was only brought about by the co-operation of the employees. The duty of a Board of Trade was to co-ordinate the various opinions of a community for the progress and advancement of the community spirit, and confidence in the district, and so the duty of every member is to assist the officials in building up a progressive and successful community. He said he was proud of Macleod and the district; Macleod was a good town, that he had travelled over a good part of the province, and he did not know another town of its size, that had the assets of Macleod, with its pavements, sewers and electric lights, and for cleanliness he didn't know its equal.

Trading Facilities

Its trading facilities were better than most towns, and the hospital was the best in the province for a town its size. The high school, the inspector had often told him, was much superior to most high schools in towns.

Macleod's strategic position was so central that no government dare attempt to change the natural stream of traffic, its position will be an important factor in the future expansion of the town and district. He spoke of encouraging the farming industry, there were undeveloped possibilities in the district, there was no greater field for the efforts of the Board of Trade. He closed a very able speech by urging closer unity between the Board of Trade, the merchants and the farmers.

Mayor McDonald

Mayor McDonald who was the next speaker, congratulated the board on the representative gathering present. He spoke of the chief value of a board of trade was that it is composed of many minds with different opinions. He had found since he became mayor that the various opinions of the councillors had been the means of making the work of the council so successful in the past few years, and so the different opinions and wise counsels of the members of the Board of Trade will make for success in the work that comes before it. The activities of the board can be developed in many ways. He spoke of the Spray Lake power scheme, stating that he had good authority for saying that if such power could be harnessed at Macleod, the dam on the Old Man river would be completed, and the saw mill and pulp mill established, as originally planned. This was one matter that the Board of Trade could help to bring to a successful completion. Suggestions, he said, are always well received and considered by any legislative body, either government or council.

Advocates Corn Club

Hugh Mackintosh made a few remarks with regard to the Board of Trade doing something towards forming a corn club for the boys and girls of the district, suggesting that two pounds of corn be given to each boy and girl for a start. He said that corn raised in this district had been sold for a few weeks earlier than in most districts. He also made a plea for more support for the agricultural society, from both the town and the farmers. New, young blood had been introduced into the society this year, and he asked for co-operation to help these young officials to make the 1927 fair a success. The young president of the society was asked for a few remarks, and he pleaded for support from the town and the farmers, stating that a successful agricultural society.

Presentation

A pleasing incident took place before the meeting closed when Mr. Mackintosh in the name of the executive of the Board of Trade presented Dr. Fanset with a small token of appreciation of his services as president for four years, stating that the doctor had never been absent from a meeting during all these years. The doctor replied that the work had been a real pleasure to him to help in any way the advancement of the town and district.

THE ATTITUDE OF THE GRAIN TRADE TOWARDS THE POOL

In order that the public, which includes all business men and all farmers, may have a proper understanding of the position which the grain trade adopted at the inception of the Pools, a brief outline of their policy up to the present time is given below.

Everyone will agree that the Pool system of marketing was an experiment. If this experiment was to be given a thorough test as against the open market system it was necessary at the inception of the Pools that the grain trade should place all their facilities at the disposal of the Pool executive. This the grain trade willingly did under a contract whereby Pool grain was handled as the Pool executive desired, and at a remuneration less than it should have been, taking into consideration the capital investment. Pool officials have admitted from time to time that the elevator operators have carried out the terms of their contract in a very satisfactory manner in fact.

In addition to handling the grain for Pool account, the elevator operators financed all Pool grain passing through their elevators as well, which was of great assistance to the Pools, as at the beginning the Pools had neither capital nor reserves. Notwithstanding the fact that, largely because of the great practical assistance of the elevator operators, the Pool system of marketing has had every opportunity to fully develop itself as against the open market system, the Pool system has not succeeded. In its main aims and has not been able to secure a return equal to the average price in the open market. Pool theories and declared objects have not been accomplished and are one by one being abandoned by the Pool leaders.

The literature which the Committee of the Northwest Grain Dealers' Association has lately been supplying to members and their agents has been circulated in order that there might be a proper and intelligent understanding of the results obtained by the Pool to date as compared to the open market system. All criticism in this literature is reasonable in character and is supported by facts.

It is hoped this explanation will absolutely clear up, in the minds of the public, the position of the elevator operators. They have not hampered in any way the Pool executives in their operations up to date. If the Pools have failed to secure average prices, as compared to the open market system, it is the fault of the Pool system and not of the grain trade.

TO CLEAR DEBT, MACLEOD CHURCH - OFFER OF AID FROM UNITED CHURCH HEADQUARTERS ACCEPTED

The Rev. W. H. Irwin, pastor of the United Church, Macleod, received a telegram from the chairman of the finance department of the United Church, Toronto, which he read to his congregation on Sunday. The telegram stated, "that if the congregation of the United Church, Macleod, will raise $3,500 on or before April 1, 1927, the balance of the indebtedness against the church property in Macleod will be cancelled."

This offer was accepted by the board of the church and Mr. Irwin was instructed to make the necessary preparations for the drive to raise the amount named. ### SISTER OF MRS. A. F. GRADY OF MACLEOD, SUCCUMBS

Word was received Sunday evening of the sudden death of Mrs. J. T. Blowey, Shaughnessy Heights, Vancouver. On Tuesday last she took the flu and was ordered to bed by her doctor where she remained till Saturday, when she sat up a short time. On Sunday evening she felt well enough to get up, and while dressing dropped dead of heart failure. She leaves a husband, who is head of the Blowey, Henry Furniture Co., and two sons, both married, one in Edmonton and the other in Vancouver.

Mrs. Blowey was a sister of A. F. Grady, Macleod. She was born in Owen Sound, Ontario, coming west to Manitoba where she married. They came to Edmonton and lived several years, then moved to Vancouver four years ago.

ALBERTA WHEAT POOL

The following salient features were taken from a circular issued by C. M. Hall, manager of the Alberta Pool Elevators, to his agents: That the Grain Trade is unfair and inaccurate in its criticisms of the Wheat Pool.

That the Grain Trade is compelling non-Pool farmers to pay for the expensive campaign being conducted against the Pool.

That non-Pool farmers are contributing to the Grain Trade in "spreads" on street grain nearly three times the amount that Wheat Pool farmers are required to pay.

That on "street wheat" non-Pool farmers, according to a recent buying list, pay the Grain Trade an average spread of from 13 to 14 cents a bushel.

That the Grain Trade's lowest margin on "street wheat," according to a recent buying list, is between 8 and 9 cents a bushel.

That the Grain Trade's highest margin on the same list is between 16 and 17 cents a bushel.

That if a line elevator receives in one day 2000 bushels of non-pool wheat the gross elevator profit is around $205.00.

That if the same elevator receives in one day the gross amount of profit to that elevator is $9.00.

That non-Poolers thus have to pay nearly Three Times As Much As Pool Members.

That in view of the above figures the line elevators who enter into competition with Pool elevators, and are desirous of discrediting the Wheat Pool.

On top of the profits on these wide spreads there are the following profits available to the Grain Trade on non-Pool wheat: profits on export, profits on mixing, profits on Vancouver premiums, profits on the difference between the Vancouver and Fort William freight rates.

A negro cook came into a northern Missouri bank with a check from the lady for whom she worked. As Mandy, the cook, could not write, she always endorsed her checks with a big X. But on this occasion she made a circle on the back of the check.

"What's the big idea, Mandy?" asked the teller. "Why don't you make a cross, as usual?"

"Ah done got married yesterday. Boss, and I've changed mah name."

"Too much of the uplift in this country is confined to noses."

Intuition is what makes a woman know she is right in spite of foolish logic.

Those who attended the meeting of the Wheat and Cattle Pool were bountifully repaid for their pains, as many new and delightful phases were pointed out, and a better understanding of these beneficial establishments was brought about.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kylo spent a very enjoyable weekend in Pinehear Creek and Fishburn where Mr. Kylo's mother, Mrs. Friwald resides. During their absence Mr. Seth Barr, of Macleod, filled Mr. Kylo's place as foreman on the farm of Mrs. G. A. Barr.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Sheffield and family, of Macleod, were visitors at the home of J. H. Driver over the weekend.

Misses Kathleen and Jenny Barr spent Saturday and Sunday at their home in Ardenville.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Victor Barr on January 9, a son. Both mother and child are doing well.

The Ardenville Amateur Theatrical Society are planning another evening's splendid entertainment for the surrounding district, in the form of a big three act play entitled "Poor Father." A side splitting comedy, affording a good laugh from beginning to end at the clean jokes and wholesome fun. Poor Father thinks he can successfully juggle the truth, but George, the colored servant, out distances him and causes a peck of trouble which involves absent-minded Dummell, who is convinced that he is a bigamist, a breezy actress, a noisy but timid cop, and all the members of Poor Father's household. The haunted coffin almost proves George's finish. The A.A.T.S. expect to put on this play at the Ardenville school, February 11, and in all probability it will be followed by a dance.

Those who attended the meeting of the Wheat and Cattle Pool were bountifully repaid for their pains, as many new and delightful phases were pointed out, and a better understanding of these beneficial establishments was brought about.

WHERE COLLEGE MEN GO

What becomes of the man when he goes out into the fields of life after his college days are over? How many drift down and lose the aims their youth cherished?

Some interesting facts have been gathered on the class that was graduated in 1917 from the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale University. This class has a membership of about 320 men who are about 30 years of age now, after having been in the workaday world for eight years.

More than 75 per cent of them have been married since graduation.

Most of them wedded at about 26 and their wives averaged 23.

The most susceptible period for marrying was three years after graduation, the romantic spirit melting away slowly after that time. From the standpoint of heirs they have done well, the average being slightly more than one child per family.

The "grade" average $6000 a year in earnings, with an additional average income from investments, bringing the total up to $7800 per man per year. Ninety-five per cent of the class, however, had an average earned income of only $4500, and total income of $6400.

The most that an individual has earned is $115,000 a year. Average assets per man are $16,500, and maximum assets reported by any individual $1,000,000.

The general prosperity of the men was indicated further by the fact that more than 70 per cent of them own automobiles. More than 30 per cent own their own homes. The average amount of insurance carried is $22,500 per man.

Nearly half the men are engaged in the work they had planned to do before leaving college.

As to habits, almost 50 per cent of the men smoke, mainly cigarettes. Three-quarters of the replies to the questionnaire sent out indicated that the men aren't averse to liquor. Less than one-quarter of the men reported they favored prohibition.

From the standpoint of recreation, golf received the largest vote. There is your college man, eight years after graduation.

COMPETITION VERSUS CO-OPERATION

"Competition is the life of trade" was an idea so thoroughly believed in a few years ago that it became a favorite copy-book maxim that was injected into the minds of growing children in order that they might be properly equipped for the business of the future.

Socialists consistently attacked this principle, as economically unsound and wasteful, and urged the substitution of co-operation for competition as a remedy for some of the ills of society.

While the socialist theory of co-operation goes far beyond the operations of industry and commerce, still, in these departments, the soundness of the theory is becoming more and more apparent as it is applied in various branches of business activity.

The United States attempted to control this tendency in modern business by enacting anti-trust laws, the legislation being based on the assumption that the result of the combines would be to raise the price of commodities to the consumer; general experience has proved the assumption to be false, and instead of higher prices the reverse has been the case.

The primary reason for combinations is not entirely unselfish; but the cupid of merchants and manufacturers is held in check by the modern business philosophy which is based on increased consumption, and consumption is best stimulated by producing goods at lower costs, and thus to widen the demand.

Individualistic competition may result in a temporary reduction of prices, but it indicates an unhealthy condition that frequently is the precursor of ruin.

Competition is a dynamic element in human progress, but it reaches its highest efficiency as the discipline servant of co-operation.

COMPLETELY READY

A Highland minister came to a lonely house on the margin of his parish to baptize the child of a shepherd who lived there. "Are ye prepared?" he asked. "Aye," said the shepherd. "I got a grand ham, ye ken, for dinner." "No, No," said the minister. "I mean spiritually prepared?" "Aye, aye, meenister. I got a quart frae the inn."

BUY AT HOME SPEND YOUR MONEY IN MACLEOD

Purchases representing thousands of dollars are lost to us, to our trade, to our clerks and employees, to our laborers and artisans, to all the people of Macleod who exist on the products of their work. This money, if spent at home, would help to recreate Macleod financially, give a wider field of activities in business, would be helpful to every resident of this town.

If we purchased regularly from local merchants, this money would circulate in Macleod in a welcome manner. Our merchants merit our patronage; it is to our interest, and the duty of all of us to encourage the local merchant. He is one of us, he lives among us, he has the right to be encouraged by us, he is anxious to have our custom, and to give us satisfaction. We should under all circumstances give him preference, price for price, quality for quality. And nearly always the price that our local merchant asks is, if we compare the quality, just as cheap as that of the outside merchant.

Never purchase merchandise by catalogues from foreign houses before assuring yourself that you cannot procure the same articles, of the same quality (and frequently of better quality) at the same price from your local merchant.

GENERAL MERCHANTS—DRY GOODS, LADIES' AND MEN'S UNDERWEAR, BOOTS AND SHOES, GROCERIES, VEGETABLES AND FRUITS.

Everything is quiet in Groceries and Dry Goods. So we can talk to you without fear of interruption. No matter what we put into the window, on the line, or in the show cases you just glance at them and then pass by, and in many cases they are articles that you need—as the old saying goes in that book of the ages, "Eyes have you, but see not, ears have you, but use them not." No matter how hard the times, money is just as carelessly spent as in palmiest days of Miami or Hollywood.

We are determined to make a clearance of sweaters and pullovers. It is very difficult to sell them, all want the loudest, ugliest, the most God forsaken rag that a poor crazed fool ever taxed his feeble brain to invent, and most of these crazy conceptions are worn by men whose only audience are a few pigs and chickens and the delighted eyes of the wearer.

Now $5.00 will buy an all Wool Tweed Overcoat for men and youth's. They are large, you can cut them up for the youngsters. Mackinaws at Cost, Men's Riding Boots $4.75. Be sensible and wear a nice Plain Color Sweater, 100% wool, all shades, but no jazz patterns, Coat Sweaters—a few left. Let your common sense imagine what you can save by careful buying. If you don't see what you want, it is necessary to buy what you want and pay any old price asked for to satisfy your determination to have that and no other.
